DOUBLE LAURELS

BOTH DEBATING TEAMS OF GLENDALE HIGH WIN IN SATURDAY'S CONTEST

Pride swells the bosoms of students in the debating section of Glendale Union High for they bear aloft, figuratively speaking, twin laurel wreaths of victory. They were won by the two teams sent out by the class to battle in the foenic arena last Saturday evening, the question set for all the schools in the league:

"Resolved, That the affiliation of organizations of public employees such as policemen, postal clerks, and public school teachers, with the American Federation of Labor, should be prohibited by law."

The victory was the more surprising because in each case it was the unanimous decision of all three judges, there being no dissenting voice.

The speakers for the affirmative who remained at home and debated in our own high school were Paul Hutchinson and Francis Reed, both sophomores. Neither had participated in a league debate before, but Paul Hutchinson very creditably represented his class in the last oratorical contest. They were matched against two plucky girls from Alhambra High, Nina Wright and Beth Armstrong, both seniors. Neither, however, experienced in debate.

John Worley, who debated last year, and Jack Jenkins, were the negative speakers who went to Covina. Feeling that the odds were against them since they must go from home and perform their task in strange surroundings, they made exceedingly careful preparation and did so well that the friends who accompanied them as rooters for the class and the school were immensely pleased.

The judges at Covina were Principal Reynolds of Pomona High, the principal of Citrus Union High and a member of the faculty of Occidental judges who served here were: the lady teacher of English in Hollywood High, Miss Byal; Judge Palmer, editor of the Hollywood Citizen, and Mr. Horton, debating coach of Franklin High.

This double victory gives a good start on the season's contest for the championship and should put the debaters in good heart for the next meet.

MILFORD STREET CLUB

The Milford Street Card Club was entertained Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. C. Leppelman at 357 Milford. Mrs. Clement and Mrs. H. V. Henry were guests of the club which spent the afternoon over Five Hundred. At the close of play delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Regular members present were: Mesdames Thompson, Heustis, Young, McPherson, Vinton, Southard, Rathbun, Hosford, Fletcher, and of course Mrs. Leppelman.

CHRISTMAS MAIL

MAN AT THE P. O. WINDOW
GIVES TIMELY HINTS
TO PATRONS

At the postoffice on Brand boulevard the question was asked, "Are Christmas shoppers buying and sending their packages early?"

"Yes," answered the man at the window, with a grin, "about one woman in five thousand."

When further questioned as to whether the reduction of train service instituted by the government to conserve fuel may make congestion of the mail the P. O. man said it might and that it was an additional reason for getting Christmas mail off early. He said it would help, too, if people would buy stamps by the quantity. He cited the case of one woman who is a daily visitor at his window for the purchase of one postal card. He also said it was surprising how many people came day after day to buy a small amount of stamps of the same denomination. If they would but wrap their packages and weigh them elsewhere, put the necessary stamps upon them and then shove them into the package chute, it would expedite the holiday business immensely, he declared, and save long waits at the window and possible delay in getting Christmas mail through.

At the P. E. office Mr. Le Grand declared the Christmas rush had not yet started and would not for a week or ten days. He said the curtailment of trains would not interfere at all with the express business, as more cars would be added to the trains that do run.

IN MEMORIAM

BEAUTIFUL SERVICE FOR THE DEAD BY ELKS' LODGE NO.
1289 LARGELY ATTENDED

A large and reverent audience assembled at the Club House of the local Elks' Lodge Sunday afternoon for the annual services in memory of members who have passed to the great beyond. It was a beautiful and fitting service, although simple in character. A most eloquent address was made by Bruce Drake, Past Exalted Ruler of Lodge 99, and there were musical numbers, Norman Otis singing "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," and the Elks' Quartette composed of Messrs. Otis, Jack Wagnon, George Blix and Jack Lavinsky singing "A Perfect Day," and "There Will Be One Vacant Chair."

Palms and other greenery were used in decoration of the lodge hall. The dead in whose memory the impressive ritualistic service was held numbered forty-one, the last twelve upon the list having died since services were held one year ago. Following is the complete list, a star following a name indicating that the brother was in service in the great world war:

John H. Reagan, John W. Parker, C. B. Cunningham, H. G. Pettitt, Hans Grass, L. A. Fargo, N. H. Nielsen, Wm. Herman West, G. H. Hollister, Eugene Glane, J. H. Stacy, R. A. Booth, J. G. Merrill, T. C. Malone, B. Touhey, Jas. S. Sawyer, Young D. Brooks, E. H. Phelan, M. T. Johnson, Leslie L. Meyer*, E. M. McClure, C. B. Robinson, Wm. T. Boardman, C. L. Ball*, G. LaCour, L. F. Kerri, L. Silvia, G. H. Sargent*, W. Whitworth*, F. Ragland, A. L. Weaver, Rev. C. I. Mills, C. J. Bachman, H. G. McCauley, Jr., E. D. Gregg, W. R. Miller, E. B. Murphy, C. W. Burket, H. A. Reif, T. E. Gaiher, J. A. Pirtle.

PUPILS' RECITAL

In spite of the rainstorm of last Friday evening, a large and interested crowd attended the piano recital given by a number of the pupils of Mrs. Eva J. Cunningham at the Glendale Phonograph and Piano Company's display room.

The work done by the pupils ranged from that of a beginner of only six lessons to the intermediate and advanced and showed careful training both as to technic and musical interpretation.

The following pupils took part: Wm. McRae Stanley and Ivanelle Livingstone, Virginia Woodard, Marcia Crocker, Adelaide and Emily Gillan, Frances Beckwith, Paul Kohlberg, Joy Willisford, Lawrence Burns, Genevieve Burr, Grace Hardinge, Shirley Preston, Robert McReynolds, Beatrice Case, Rebecca Brant, Robert Holland, Ruby Haun, Louise Dore and Muriel Espy.

The program ended with four numbers most artistically played by Mrs. Vernon Spencer of Los Angeles, who added much interest to each piece by preceding it with the story of what inspired the composer.

PASTELLE LUNCHEON

Miss Lucile Tholen of 818 South Brand, the latter part of the week entertained with a four-course luncheon a group of congenial friends who have been meeting together for some time as a Christmas Sewing Club. Yellow chrysanthemums and bowls of sweet peas decorated the living room, while the luncheon table, spread with a Cluny lace cover, was centered with sweet peas in pastelle shades, which were repeated in the baskets, place cards and favors. The afternoon was devoted to music and sewing. Those present were: Mesdames Leslie Eames, W. W. Worley, Joe Cannon, John Eames, Frank Staley, Leigh Bancroft, B. F. Richard, H. P. Goodwin, and the hostess.

MOURNS LOSS OF MOTHER

Mrs. Fulcher of 509 East Harvard Street is mourning the loss of her mother, Mrs. Annie Chase, who passed away Thursday morning, December 4th, at her home in Long Beach. She was fifty-eight years of age and was a native of Australia, but came to this country when a child. She has been a resident of California for thirteen years. She had been an invalid for a year or more and had been critically ill for the past two weeks, during which Mrs. Fulcher had been constantly at her bedside. Funeral services were held in Long Beach Saturday. Deceased left three daughters besides Mrs. Fulcher, Mesdames Evans and Maurer, of Long Beach, and Mrs. Vallquette of Oakland.

COAL SHORTAGE TO CONTINUE ACUTE

INDUSTRIES MUST REMAIN CLOSED UNTIL PRODUCTION AND TRANSPORTATION RELIEVE SITUATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Officials predict that the coal shortage will continue to be acute until the first of the year even if the miners do accept President Wilson's proposed plan for settlement when the Union Wage Committee meets tomorrow.

The Railway Administration is planning the continued curtailment of train service, especially to permit greater coal delivering capacity on the part of the railways in case the mines reopen. Industries must remain closed until such time as production and transportation facilities make possible the replenishment of coal supplies.

CONSPIRACY INVESTIGATION POSTPONED

FEDERAL GRAND JURY AT INDIANAPOLIS DELAYS ACTION HOPING FOR COAL STRIKE SETTLEMENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 8.—The Federal Grand Jury's investigation of the alleged conspiracy between coal miners and operators to limit production during the summer, was postponed today in view of the probable settlement of the coal strike.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION

CONSIDERED LIKELY THAT IT WILL BE HELD IN EITHER CHICAGO OR ST. LOUIS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Republican leaders from all states began arriving in Washington today for the National Committee meeting which opens Wednesday to select the place and date for the Republican National Convention. Hotel lobbies are crowded and are bedecked with banners advertising various presidential candidates.

St. Louis and Chicago have the best chances of winning the convention. Many cities are after it.

SENATE RESOLUTION TURNED DOWN

AMERICAN ACTION TO ENFORCE TREATY TERMS CONSIDERED INCONSISTENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Senator King of Utah today introduced in the Senate a resolution authorizing President Wilson if necessary to use the American military, naval and air forces in cooperation with the allies to force Germany to observe the peace terms. The resolution was referred to the Foreign Relations Committee.

The resolution is based on a statement in its preamble that Germany is "manifesting bad faith" in the execution of the treaty terms. Senator Thomas of Colorado wanted to know how the United States could consistently direct the enforcement of a treaty she had not ratified.

"Let's not go into that," Vice President Marshall interrupted.

ALLIES MODIFY THEIR TERMS

CONCESSIONS MADE IN NEW NOTE TO GERMANY PROMISE TO INSURE SIGNING OF PROTOCOL

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Dec. 8.—It was learned authoritatively today that a new allied note to Germany regarding the protocol to the peace treaty makes concessions to Germany which it is believed will eliminate the possibility of refusal to sign the protocol by Berlin. The note firmly demands immediate signing of the protocol but the provision for allied invasion of Germany if the peace terms are not carried out, is practically eliminated.

The demand for the delivery of dry docks and German shipping in return for the sinking of the German fleet is somewhat modified.

TROUBLE IN THE ORIENT

CHINA PROTESTS AGAINST LANDING OF TROOPS BY JAPAN AT FOO CHOW FOLLOWING RACE RIOTS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

TOKIO, Dec. 8.—A second protest from China against the landing of troops by Japan at Foo Chow, was received last week. No answer will be sent until further investigation is made. Serious international complications are feared. The trouble started in November between Chinese students and Japanese. Riots occurred in which many Chinese were injured. The Chinese boycott of Japanese goods based on the Shantung settlement is at the bottom of the difficulty.

MOMENTOUS QUESTION NEXT MONDAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The Supreme Court today failed to announce its decision on the constitutionality of war-time prohibition. The decision may be handed down next Monday.

SCHOOL MASS MEETING

CALLED FOR TONIGHT AT HIGH SCHOOL TO CONSIDER BOND ISSUE FOR BUILDING, ETC

At its last regular meeting, Board of Trustees of the High School District passed a resolution calling for a public gathering of citizens of the district, at a meeting to be held tonight for the purpose of determining the amount of bond issue necessary to put the High School in condition to take care of the necessary demands on account of the increased number of pupils. At the present time the teachers are holding sometimes as many as two or more classes in one room, which recite at the same time, because of lack of space. A committee composed of George Paine, J. A. Lawson, R. M. Jackson, has been chosen to appraise the value of the property from Masonic Temple on Brand Boulevard to Harvard Street and their report is now in the hands of C. O. Pulliam, the member of the Board who is the committee looking after that matter.

The meeting is called for 8 p. m. Monday, December 8th, and is for the purpose of deciding the amount of the bond issue and whether the property mentioned shall be purchased for school purposes. Mr. Shaw, President of the Board, will call the meeting to order and present the matter clearly to the public that the situation may be fully understood. It will probably be necessary to call a bond issue for at least $250,000, or perhaps $300,000, to build the necessary buildings and provide equipment to take care of the situation.

GREAT 1920 ROAD PROGRAM

David F. Houston, Secretary of Agriculture, in his annual report, calls attention to the fact that the 1919 program for Federal aid road building is greater than any previous annual road-building accomplishment in this country. It is so great, in fact, that it undoubtedly will be necessary for many of the states to postpone until 1920 the expenditure of the Federal funds, because of the necessity of developing experienced contracting and engineering organizations from the stagnant conditions brought about by the war. Under the terms of the Federal aid road act, the apportionment to a state for any one fiscal year remains available for expenditure until the close of the succeeding year. It is estimated that funds already provided will be sufficient to finance next year a program more than four times greater than any that has ever been undertaken.

WHAT O'CLOCK?

The Telephone Company issued an order not long ago that its operators were not to furnish information in regard to the time to persons who had forgotten to wind their watches or whose clocks had stopped. Now Mr. Downing, agent for the Western Union Telegraph Company, is praying for relief because the tide of inquiry has turned to him. He has met the flood up to the present time but says with the holiday business coming on he will have to place an embargo on questions of that sort also. The town may have to resort to the old time crier who will traverse the streets calling, "Nine o'clock and all is well," or if not that it will have to establish a town clock which will strike the hours and half hours.

DEATH OF MRS. GUNNERSON

Mrs. Karrine Gunnerson passed away at her home at 520 West Broadway December 5th, 1919. She recently moved here from St. Cloud, Minnesota, having been a resident of this city for only about four months. She came with three sons and two daughters, all of whom bought property and are building homes on Broadway between Pacific and San Fernando Road. Mrs. Gunnerson was born in Norway and was seventy-four years of age. Services are being held this afternoon in the Little Church of the Flowers at 2 o'clock, in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, with Pulliam and Kiefer in charge.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Richard Roberts, his daughter Laura, and his sons David and Willard, were guests at dinner served Sunday by Mrs. Charles Ingledue of East Wilson Avenue, in celebration of the birthday of her husband. Covers were, of course, laid for the members of the Ingledue family, and a pleasant social and musical afternoon followed the feast.

METHODIST BAZAAR

EARLY PART OF SATURDAY AFTERNOON FINDS EVERYTHING SOLD AT GOOD PRICES.

By Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock the booths which had been erected in the banquet hall of the First Methodist church were deserted and dismantled all except the cooked food booth which was still dispensing pies and doughnuts. The big stocks of candy which the Philathea Girls had accumulated had disappeared except a few samples of fudge, and all the fancy work was gone. No estimate could be then made of returns, but a meeting of chairmen of committees was held in the evening and the combined reports showed that about $350 had been realized.

It was most harmonious affair in which all the members of the Ladies' Aid co-operated, each lending a hand wherever her services would do the most good. Mrs. Phillips had charge of fancy work sales, Mrs. C. D. Lusby, cooked food, Mrs. Starkey, assisted by Mrs. Ed Lee, Mrs. Shattuck and others of the kitchen. Members of the Philathea class took turns at the candy booth and the J. O. C. Class also had a booth. Delicious meals were served—a luncheon Friday, a dinner the same night and a luncheon Saturday, all of which were well patronized.

CRAES IN CANADA

GRAPHIC SKETCH OF TRIP EAST. PROSPERITY AND PRICES IN ONTARIO, CANADA

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McRae who left Glendale early in November on a trip to points in the East, write from Moose Creek, Ontario, under date of December 11, 1919, as follows:

Editor Evening News:
Mrs. McRae and I thought our Glendale friends would like to hear something about our trip since leaving on November 8. Our first stop was at Colorado Springs, where they had a light blanket of snow. Chicago lived up to its reputation and proved to Mrs. McRae's satisfaction that it was still the windy city.

After spending several days visiting friends in Grand Rapids and vicinity, I went on to Battle Creek to attend the conference of State and territorial (Canadian) Y. M. C. A. Secretaries. The conference was attended by one hundred and twenty-five men, representing practically all the States and provinces of the United States and Canada. We were entertained by the Battle Creek sanitarium, where all sessions were held. One of the pleasant surprises of the meeting was an address by Dr. Kellogg, head of the Sanitarium, and well known specialist in his line.

The International convention of the Y. M. C. A. at Detroit was, of course, the real object of our trip East, as I was one of the delegates of the State Executive Committee. The attendance of voting and fraternal delegates was over four thousand and the convention was most inspiring and forward looking. Our greatest leader, Dr. John R. Mott, addressed the convention, and confidently expressed the opinion that the greatest opportunity of the organization was immediately before it. The rural or county work was given a prominent place in the report and plans as adopted call for the organization of seven hundred and fifty counties in the next three years. In unofficial statements California and Michigan were mentioned as the leading states in county work. The writer was elected chairman of the committee representing the state county work secretaries.

We are completing our week's visit in Canada today. It was spent among immediate relatives and old friends, and has been most pleasant for us, but rather hard on chickens. The old time cordiality and hospitality of the Canadians has been fully sustained. The Canadian farmers admit they have never done better in their history. Milk used to bring sixty cents a hundred when I used to drive it to the factory as a boy, but now it brings $3.60 a hundred. Eggs sold then for as low as ten cents, but are bringing eighty cents today on the wholesale market.

We leave Canada today for the last part of our visit in the Eastern cities.

We do not fail on all occasions to boost California and especially our home town of Glendale.

Yours Sincerely,

W. D. McRae.

WEATHER FORECAST: Unsettled weather tonight and Tuesday. Occasionally rain. Somewhat cooler tonight.

EVOLUTION OF THE IMMIGRANT

"Why should not congress provide for an ethical survey of the people of the United States?"

"We should have definite and reliable information concerning those foreign elements which are beneficial to our people and those which are harmful."

Because the world war has stemmed the tide of foreign immigration, giving the United States an unprecedented opportunity to formulate a fixed policy for future immigration control, this suggestion by Alexander Graham Bell is timely.

Usually the problem of immigration has been considered only from its immediate economic aspect, but, according to Dr. Bell, one of the world's foremost authorities on eugenics, immigration has an important bearing on our entire social and racial fabric. In a communication to the society he explains:

"The problem of improving a race of human beings is a most perplexing one to handle. The process of improvement must be slow where the forces concerned act from within and are not amenable to control from without. Under the best conditions it would require several generations to produce sensible results; but in the United States we have, in the new blood introduced from abroad, an important means of improvement that will act more quickly and that is eminently susceptible to control. All the nations of the world have been contributing elements to our population, and we have now, and now only, the opportunity of studying the process of absorption before it is complete."

"The grand spectacle is presented to our eyes of a new people being gradually evolved in the United States by the mingling together of the different races of the world in varying proportions. It is the greatest consequence to us that the final result should be the evolution of a higher and nobler type of man in America, and not deterioration of the man."

"To this end the process of evolution should be carefully studied, and then controlled by suitable immigration laws tending to eliminate undesirable ethical elements, and to stimulate the admission of elements assimilated readily by our population and that tend to raise the standard of manhood here."

THE PEACE TREATY

The peace treaty, with the incorporated plan of the League of Nations, will doubtless be presented again to the Senate in the new session of Congress. It is strongly intimated, too, that the "pact" (to use the current newspaper term) must be thoroughly Americanized before the Upper House will give it favorable consideration. This is as it should be. And it is interesting to note that many European statesmen take the view that the United States cannot be expected to adopt a treaty which does not protect American interests in all places and at all times. Perhaps this view may be held merely to assuage European disappointment; nevertheless, expression has been given to it by several French and English politicians.

The remarks of European papers about the President's illness are puzzling. It seems to be assumed that Mr. Wilson is a very sick man; indeed, the London Sunday Chronicle of October 19 carried a double-column article on its first page, declaring that the President had done his last important work, and warning that Great Britain might as well face the fact. It spoke, too, of the President's serious condition as of something well known to European chanceries. Now our own newspapers come forward to repeat these disquieting rumors. It seems to us that it is high time that the American people be told whether or not they may expect the President's recovery, because the times are serious, and the Ship of State needs a hand at the helm.—The Tidings.

INFLUENCE

The only influence worth having is the influence you yourself create.

Money can be bestowed or bequeathed by a rich man, but the things most worth while cannot.

The man who wields a wide, wholesome, helpful influence is the man who has mastered both his job and himself, the man who has acquired wisdom by painstaking study, effort and experience, the man whose parts and character are respected by others, the man whose personality inspires admiration, the man whose achievements testify to his worth.

The influence possessed by others cannot do much for you unless you have done something to enlist their influence on your behalf.

A letter of introduction cannot do that. An invitation to lunch or dinner in order to meet the man whose influence you court cannot do it.

You have to make your own impression upon him. You have to do something or say something or exhibit something that convinces him you are all right, that you will measure up to expectations, that you will fill the bill, that you will deliver the goods.

You have, in other words, to "sell" your worth to him.

Much as has been written about the phonograph as a help to army recreation and morale during the war, its part in the decoding of intercepted enemy messages by wireless went naturally unmentioned, and only now adds its interesting item to the last of mechanical aids to warfare. It recorded wireless messages and gave the experts of the Intelligence Department opportunity to study them; and it solved one mystery that for some months kept the experts on the allied side in the perplexity of knowing that the Germans were exchanging messages that couldn't be read by anybody else. The message came to the listeners of the Allies as an unintelligible buzz; the solution, when it was discovered, proved to be that the words were being transmitted through the sending apparatus at a speed of 400 a minute, and then slowed up to an intelligible rate of speed by those who received it. A source of strength while it remained insoluble, the system became a source of weakness when an allied radio officer had solved it. A moralist might add the reflection that in peace or war deception is always liable to be found out and become more dangerous to the deceiver than to anybody else.—C. S. Monitor.

USE OF CONCRETE

(By United Press)
PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 6.—Before we are much older concrete railroad cars, concrete ships and other utilities made of concrete are going to become as commonplace as concrete buildings.

This was the prediction of James Livingston of Glasgow, Scotland, who built the first concrete ships for Great Britain during the war. Livingston and his family were winter visitors in Pasadena.

"Development of the possibilities is in its infancy," he said. "Reinforced concrete ships are a recognized success, but reinforced concrete railroad cars are not a success. Refinement and improvements may be expected however, which will permit of construction with lighter weight."

"But development of the use of concrete is inevitable owing to the growing shortage of the world's available timber. Moreover, concrete is fireproof whereas steel twists and breaks under intense heat."

The Livingstons like Southern California so well they have decided to make it their home.

WHAT IS PRUNING

Pruning is the art of modifying the natural habit of the fruit tree in order to secure fruit in greater abundance, more regularly, and of better quality than could otherwise be the case. The cutting of a tree is designed to change its form, its function, or both form and function. However, the physiological response of a tree to any kind of pruning is such that it is practically impossible to modify its shape without at the same time profoundly influencing its functions.

Briefly stated, the purposes of pruning are five-fold:

- To produce a vigorous, mechanically strong, healthy tree, free from sunburn, capable of producing heavy crops over a long period of years.
- To secure a tree well shaped for convenience and economy in orchard management.
- To distribute the fruiting area well over the tree.
- To insure a succession of profitable crops.

Personals

Miss E. Maud Soper and Miss Isabel Stevens of Glendale were weekend guests at Hotel Windemere, Santa Monica.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Haynes at 350 West Harvard street welcomed to their home a little daughter born December 6th, 1919.

Mrs. Roscoe Jones of Cerritos avenue with her little daughter has gone to Lancaster to remain until Christmas with an old school friend.

Mrs. M. Pickering of North Jackson Street has just welcomed a sister and brother-in-law who have come from Canada to spend the winter in Southern California.

In spite of the stormy weather excellent audiences gathered at the Palace Grand Friday evening for the return showing of the screen version of "Fair and Warmer," the comedy which had such a long run on Broadway, New York.

Miss Bessie Wright of 446 West Maple Avenue left recently for Beverly Hills Hotel, where she will have charge of a specialty shop. This is Miss Wright's second season there. The shop will remain open during the winter and spring months.

Mrs. Harry T. Lockwood of 934 North Louise Street entertained a few friends with an informal social evening Friday in celebration of her husband's birthday, her guest list including Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. Hampson Frost and Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Boyer.

The Foster Bridge Club was very pleasantly entertained with a two-course mid-day luncheon on Friday by Mrs. W. V. Ramsey on Adams street, the afternoon being devoted to cards, at which Mrs. Helen Campbell made high score. There were three tables, all members being present.

Memorial services were held by the Elks' Lodge of Pomona Sunday at which the address was made by Albert Pearce, Past Exalted Ruler of the Glendale Lodge. Mr. and Mrs. Pearce, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fish, Mr. and Mrs. Day and Ray Bostwick were guests of the Elks' Club at a turkey dinner.

Invitations have been sent by members of the Philathea class of the Methodist Sunday School to members of the Barraca class and other friends for a party to be given the latter part of the week at the home of Miss Margaret Lusby. It is to be quite an elaborate affair at which about fifty young people will be entertained.

Property owned by Mrs. Robbins at 317 East Lomita which has been occupied for several years by Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Pedersen, through the instrumentality of Ezra Parker and Mr. Barstow has been sold to Mrs. Edith A. Cross of Monrovia. Mrs. Cross was the owner of an orange ranch in Monrovia which has recently been sold to new comers from Michigan. She is coming to Glendale to establish a home with her sister, Miss Gertrude Gibbs, who is a member of the Evening News staff. She expects to have possession of her new home the latter part of the present month. Mr. and Mrs. Pederson have purchased a home in Los Angeles. Mrs. Robbins is in New York and likely to be detained there by professional work.

The Second Mazourka by Goddard arranged for violin and piano was played with fine effect by Mr. Valentine and Mrs. Reynolds-Burk. Mrs. Cunningham presiding at the piano.

Piano solos were contributed by Mrs. Adeltha Peterson, who played the Prelude, by Chaminade.

Other interesting program numbers were the violin solo by Mrs. Reynolds-Burk, "Anita's Dance" by Grieg.

She was accompanied upon the piano by Mrs. Peterson, who also gave as a vocal solo, "Angel's Serenade," by Braga. Mrs. Cunningham furnishing the piano accompaniment.

Violin obligatos for this number were contributed by Mr. Valentine and Mrs. Reynolds-Burk.

Mrs. Cunningham presiding at the piano.

The program closed with the singing by all present of "Blest Be the Tie."

A woman at Long Beach, says the Telegram, died there the other day just two years after her husband had passed away, which verified a prediction she received through a "spirit world message" shortly after his death. That revives the old query as to just how much influence our thoughts and beliefs have over our bodies. The instance of the man who died when told that his wrist arteries had been opened and that he was bleeding to death while he was blindfolded, is recalled. His wrist was not even cut, but he thought it was and was mentally sure he was dying, so he died. It will never be known whether it was his mental belief or a weak heart that killed him, however. And so with the Long Beach lady. She probably drilled her mind so firmly into the belief that she would die in two years that it actually helped her to die. And if she got any pleasure out of the fulfillment of her prophecy, let her have it and be welcome, say we.

Mrs. Elizabeth I. Day, who has been a resident of Glendale for more than a year and employed as a linotype operator in the composing room of the Evening News, was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium Sunday where she underwent an operation for appendicitis. She is in a serious condition, but her physicians are very hopeful of her recovery.

The committee appointed to look into the advisability of establishing a cafeteria at the Intermediate School met the early part of last week on the call of the chairman, Mrs. C. H. Thompson, and discussed the matter delegating certain members to ascertain cost of equipment preliminary to the report to be submitted to the Intermediate Parent-Teacher Association today, at its regular meeting.

DEATH OF MRS. M. VIOHL

After a very brief illness, Mrs. Marie Viohl passed away at her home at 446 West Colorado Street Sunday, December 7th, 1919. She was taken sick last week but did not succumb and go to bed until Saturday. A hemorrhage of the brain was the immediate cause of death. She was sixty-five years of age, was a native of Germany, but came to this country just after the civil war, making her home in Chicago until she came to Glendale nine years ago. She made a host of friends here who will share the grief of her relatives—almost prostrated by her sudden demise. Funeral services, conducted by Rev. Julius Soper, will be held Friday at 10 a. m. at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, which will be in charge of the Pulliam and Kiefer Company.

Deceased is survived by six children: Mrs. J. F. Hearnshaw, William Viohl, and Mrs. Charles H. Sanders of Glendale, R. C. Viohl, Mrs. A. B. Rosencrans and George Viohl of Chicago.

RECEPTION TO MUSICAL FACULTY

Mrs. Fred Richardson of South Central Avenue opened her home Friday evening for a recital which was in the nature of a reception for members of the faculty of the Valentine Conservatory of Music and Art which has recently been opened in the Payne Block on San Fernando Boulevard. In spite of the bad weather the parlors were well filled with appreciative guests.

Fine violin numbers by Charles A. Valentine, who was in Glendale several years ago, included "Le Gendry" by Wienawski, which was especially enjoyed. His sister, Mrs. Valentine Cunningham, was his accompanist on the piano.

Piano solos were contributed by Mrs. Adeltha Peterson, who played the Prelude, by Chaminade.

Other interesting program numbers were the violin solo by Mrs. Reynolds-Burk, "Anita's Dance" by Grieg. She was accompanied upon the piano by Mrs. Peterson, who also gave as a vocal solo, "Angel's Serenade," by Braga. Mrs. Cunningham furnishing the piano accompaniment.

Violin obligatos for this number were contributed by Mr. Valentine and Mrs. Reynolds-Burk.

The latter part of this report may seem to you exceeding short, but we will make it ample long to tell.

How high we esteem you and love you well.

Oh, matchless genius, "all around" man.

Into the future we start you again. Continue to lecture, speak and teach.

But highest of all, continue to preach.

As heretofore, you will stand for the right,

For while winged peace ever ready to fight,

Highest of callings to mortal given

Showing wanderers the way to heaven.

One of the owners of the Remington Typewriter Company is touring Pasadena, says the Star-News.

That reminds us that the Remingtons have cut considerable figure in our wars, past and present, either with firearms or typewriters, with no reflections on the conduct of the present Mexican muddle.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Rev. C. R. Norton of 801 E. Wilson avenue celebrated his birthday, December 2, and commemorated the event with a family dinner party, the guests being Mr. and Mrs. Lester Jones of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hillyard and daughter, Phyllis, and Mrs. Fannie Barnmore of 2143 Thompson street, Los Angeles. Rev. Norton was remembered with a number of valuable and useful gifts. Mrs. Mary G. Dodge and the Charles Edmunds family contributed to the joy of the occasion by kind remembrances, and the following verses written in honor of the occasion by the venerable Samuel Parker greatly pleased the recipient:

So this is your birth anniversary day,

And here we are to pay tribute due,
Rather than with long speech surfeit you.

Put in plain language our words of cheer,
Patiently hear us if you will,

We hope to make it to you quite clear,
That the heart beats on tho' the lips are still.

We are here today with you to rejoice
In that awful event—the fact of your birth

Unborn, inanimate—no voice,

What use he in heaven or earth.

Hark! with birth comes voice for speech and song,

And liberal power to use is given.

That voice has aided a mighty throng

To be happy on earth and get ready for heaven.

Oh! thou marvelous mystery—life,

Wrapped up in that wriggling baby boy.

Oh! how soon he will enter the strife,
Bear his share of sorrow and joy.

A few fleeting years that follow birth,

Years of growth and expansion are given;

Forth he goes to conquer the earth,

And invade the infinite realm of heaven.

It cometh an edict from the throne,

Man is no good when he is alone.

Double him up—it is easily done—

Simple the process, making two into one.

Lop-sided, imperfect, is any man's life;

And so it remains until he gets a wife.

And we are here with emphasis to declare

That she who bears your honored name, shall share

In all the honors and favors we bring

In the speeches we make, and the songs we sing.

Oh who can tell of the joys that come,

With wife and mother in Christian home?

It is hers to double life's pleasure for you—

The keenest of sorrows she cuts in two,

She thru the gloom, sees the morning's rays,

Hers the first glad song of better days.

Filled to the brim is misery's cup—

When the sacrificing woman gives up.

But who are these that attention demand?

"Our Jewels" you say and the name is grand.

Not all the wealth that the banks may hold,

Multplied ten—or ten thousand fold

Could for a moment be valued above

The priceless value of children's love.

And children and children's children today,

Are here to celebrate in a fitting way—

And wish as all of us do,

That many others may come to you.

$1,000 invested in 1915 at 8 per cent has increased itself 32 per cent by 1919, but money has depreciated in value 80 per cent, therefore 80 per cent minus 32 per cent equals 48 per cent, showing an actual diminishment of capital for the original $1,000 is in 1919 really worth $520. Investments for larger returns is the only solution and we offer you this opportunity to invest in one of the conservative Texas oil companies which has as its foundation a policy of stability and permanency. We are building our company for future dividends and you should invest your money along the same lines.
